

The TeenNow California Annual Conference provides many wonderful educational opportunities for youth-serving professionals. You'll receive hands-on, useful information that you can use every day with youth, parents, funders and community members. Health educators, social workers, nurses, doctors, teachers, and more come together for three days of networking, sharing best practices, and fun. Please join us for this year's conference!

Conference Objectives

- To provide and exchange information on new developments and pending legislation in the areas of education, social and health services, adolescent sexuality, teen pregnancy and parenting
- To develop and support medically-accurate and research-driven strategies in teen pregnancy prevention
- To disseminate the latest research and evaluation methodologies in adolescent health, early childhood/youth development, nutrition and violence prevention research
- To identify effective strategies for engaging young men in leadership roles, pregnancy prevention, fatherhood, and youth development activities.
- To provide a forum for attendees to develop strategies to coordinate service delivery systems that ensure access to comprehensive, youth-friendly health services
- To provide a support network among agencies and professionals working with adolescents

Our Mission:

Since its inception in 1971, TeenNow California (formerly the California Alliance Concerned with School Age Parenting and Pregnancy Prevention) has been dedicated to promoting the health and well-being of adolescents and their families, and to the prevention of adolescent childbearing and risk behaviors. It is our goal to raise public awareness of the policies and programs in California that provide services to adolescents. Please join us for this special conference and learn how you can join in this endeavor, while sharing two days of networking, skill building and more.

BACK TO THE BASICS: Remembering What Matters

The past year has been hard on youth programs. Seemingly endless budget threats, the elimination of valuable programs, and political challenges have all taken their toll. For those of us who have dedicated ourselves to working with adolescents, it has been hard not to get discouraged. That's why this year's conference focuses on taking time to remember why we got involved with youth in the first place: to reignite our passion for the work we do, and to recommit to doing what it takes—whatever it takes—to positively impact young lives.

BEST PRACTICES AND PROGRAMS

Here we look at what's working—and how we can integrate these practices into our work. Included are addressing different cultural perspectives on teen pregnancy and sexual health.

ADVOCACY, POLICY AND RESEARCH

We provide you with information from new studies, tools to use when promoting your program, and understanding how policies may affect the work you do.

ORGANIZATIONAL CAPACITY BUILDING

From pooling resources through collaboration to seeking creating ways to fund programs, we examine how to strengthen our programs.

SELF CARE

We explore ways you can handle increased stress, take care of your own health, and thus be better able to help those you serve.

THE BAHIA RESORT: 2009 Conference Location

Secluded on a 14-acre peninsula, the Bahia Resort Hotel surrounds you with sun-drenched luxury in a year-round Mediterranean climate. Because our scenic location is in the heart of San Diego's famous Mission Bay, spectacular views of the Pacific Ocean can be enjoyed. Discover our lush tropical gardens, winding walkways, gentle ocean breezes and warm, sandy beaches. You'll be close to all the major attractions, adventure, recreation, culture and excitement of bustling downtown San Diego.
